

In brief

Vijay Singal

Department Head and J. Gray Ferguson Professor of Finance, Virginia Tech, Pamplin College of Business

CFA charterholder

Ph.D., University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Joint Director of Finance, Oil and Natural Gas Corporation, India

MBA, Indian Institute of Management, Calcutta

B.Tech., Indian Institute of Technology, Kanpur

Broad Areas: Investments, Corporate Finance, and International Finance

Areas of Expertise: Market mispricings and anomalies, emerging markets, and currency risk management.

Research: Dr. Singal's past and current research covers three major areas: irregularities related to market efficiency, international finance, and resolving finance-related issues using data from one industry, but from financial and product markets. In addition to his research, he has a book titled "Beyond the Random Walk: A Guide to Market Anomalies and Low Risk Strategies" published by Oxford University Press (hardcover, 2004; paperback, 2006). His research has been published in top quality journals such as the American Economic Review, Journal of Business, Journal of Finance, Financial Management, and the Journal of Financial Economics, and in practitioner journals such as Journal of Applied Corporate Finance, Journal of Banking and Finance, Journal of Portfolio Management, Financial Analysts Journal, and Journal of Investment Management. His research has been featured on television (CNN-fn), on radio (National Public Radio, Bloomberg Radio), and in print media such as the Wall Street Journal, Barron's, Washington Post, Chicago Tribune, New York Times, Investor's Business Daily, SmartMoney, Fortune, and Money.

Teaching: Dr. Singal's primary teaching area is Investments. In the past, he has taught International Finance. Dr. Singal was the Program Leader for the first-ever residential summer study abroad program of the school and has led 2 summer study abroad programs to Freiburg, Germany.

Business Experience: Dr. Singal worked for ten years for Oil and Natural Gas Corporation (ONGC) in India prior to joining academia. Some of his responsibilities included negotiating foreign currency syndicated loans, managing foreign exchange risk, and negotiating contracts with shipyards in Norway, Singapore, France and Japan.

Service-related Contributions: Dr. Singal is currently the Department Head of the Finance department at Virginia Tech. As chairperson, he is responsible for all Finance faculty – their recruitment, promotion and tenure, annual evaluations, compensation, etc.; all Finance programs – the undergraduate program with 250 Finance graduates each year, the Finance part of the MBA program, and the Finance doctoral program; secretarial staff; department's budget including allocation of funds to different activities; curriculum development for all courses at all levels; course assignments and scheduling; coordination with alumni, recruiters, and other stakeholders; and all other aspects related to department's administration.

Professional Achievements: Dr. Singal is a member of the American Finance Association, Financial Management Association and the Society for Financial Studies. He is a CFA charter holder and a member of CFA Institute. He has been an ad hoc referee for various journals such as American Economic Review, Journal of Finance, Review of Financial Studies, Journal of Political Economy, Journal of Financial and Quantitative Analysis, Review of Economics and Statistics, and the Journal of Business.

8. Awarded the Dykstra Fellowship by the University of Michigan for excellence in teaching.

9. Letter of Appreciation from the Dean of the Michigan Business School for outstanding teaching.

Industry Experience

1. June 1977 to August 1987. Oil and Natural Gas Corporation, India. Joint Director of Finance. Supervised a group of 30 people responsible for providing financial services to the Bombay Offshore project. Special assignments included i) Negotiating foreign currency syndicated loans and managing foreign exchange risk; ii) Insurance in the international market for ONGC's assets valued at $2 billion; iii) Negotiation and finalization of contracts with shipyards in Norway, Singapore, France, and Japan; iv) Marketing and negotiation of contracts for sale of natural gas; v) Setting up and managing a computer group for management reporting and payroll; and vi) Preparation of feasibility reports for board approval, and financial evaluation of bid packages for all major purchases.

2. July 2003 to December 2008. Member, Board of Trustees, New River Funds, Radford, VA. New River Funds was started as a complex of three mutual funds by an entrepreneur (RJ Kirk) to expand his investment management expertise into a money management enterprise, also designed to raise capital for investment in private firms. In 2003, New River Funds bought two ongoing money management firms, one investing in small cap stocks and the other in large cap stocks and bonds. The funds were managed through sub-advisors (one in Memphis, TN and the other in Rochester, NY) under the control of New River Advisors.

As an independent trustee on the Board of Trustees, I was responsible for evaluating fund performance with reference to their benchmarks, ensuring that funds' investment strategy was consistent with the stated policies of the Funds, and that the operation of the Funds was consistent with the law and investment regulations. The board met 4 times a year in person. I was a member of the Audit Committee, and designated a financial expert. The New River Funds complex was profitably sold as a going concern to another company in Tennessee in 2008.

3. June 2008 - 2015. Sapient Corporation, Boston, MA (Ticker: SAPE). In 2015, we decided to sell the company to Publicis, one of the largest marketing consulting firms. Member, Board of Directors; Chair, Risk Committee, 2009-12; Member, Audit Committee (also a financial expert), 2008 - 2015; Member, Governance and Nominating Committee, 2010-12.

Sapient is a global services firm that helps clients compete, evolve and grow in an increasingly complex marketplace. It provides brand and marketing strategy expertise and business and IT strategy services. Clients include Coke, Mars, Citigroup, Travelers, JC Penney, Target, UBS, Chevron, Vodafone, Sony Electronics, Chrysler and Verizon. Its 10,000 employees span the globe with about 60% located in India. Although diverse in demography and functional expertise, the board of directors was a cohesive group discussing strategic issues carefully and effectively. Based on my background and expertise, I was able to contribute directly to areas like cash management, dividends and stock repurchases, currency risk management including hedging strategies through futures, options and natural hedging, and managing Indian operations especially with significant differences in culture and expectations. As a board team, we were effective in keeping costs under control while strategically making acquisitions and expanding into high growth areas like government services and trading and risk management. The Board met 4 times a year in person and about 6-7 times telephonically.

4. April 2004 – current. Consultant, Castle Financial, Edison, NJ. I assist the company in designing and implementing investment strategies based on my financial experience and investment research.
